

1st Financial Literacy Conference in Greece

Venue: Greek Stock Exchange: Hermes Room
110 Athinon Avenue, Athens, 104 42, Greece

Wednesday 19th April 2017, 12.00-15.00

Conference Schedule

11.30-12.00: Arrival
12.00-12.10: Welcome address: Pantelis Lamprou
Director of Strategic Marketing and Market Analysis
Greek Stock Exchange Group

Individual responsibility and generation Y:
Is financial illiteracy reversible?

Panos Papazoglou
Chief Executive Office
Ernst & Young Global Limited

The increasing importance of financial literacy

Nikolaos Philippas
Professor of Finance
University of Piraeus

Financial literacy, public attitudes and economic behaviour

Georgios Panos
Professor of Finance
*Adam Smith Business School
University of Glasgow*

Financial literacy, open democracy and financial stability:
The PROFIT project platform

EU project PROFIT board
Panagiotis Tournavitis
Managing Director
Cooperative Bank of Karditsa
Ioannis Chrysostomos Pragidis
Associate Professor of Economics
Democritus University of Thrace

Financial literacy among Cypriot undergraduate students

Panagiotis Andreou
Associate Professor of Economics
Technological University of Limassol

Financial literacy among Greek
undergraduate students

Vasia Tzora
PhD student: University of Piraeus

Coordinator: Ioannis Papadogiannis
Journalist: Kathimerini daily newspaper

After the conference, there will be a cocktail reception